"A great and growing nationwide effort to make this country a better place in which to live is the annual Springtime Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Campaign, in which nearly all cities and towns in the United States take part.

"The citizens of Bristol and Bristol Township have done an excellent job the past two years, during the Chamber of Commerce Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up drives, but we still have a long way to go—particularly in cleaning up vacant lots and unused properties.

START WORK TO IMPROVE APPROACHES

First Steps Being Taken Along the Borough Dump Area

GREAT STEP FORWARD

The first steps toward beautifying the entrances to Bristol are now underway. Men have been working below Bristol, along old Route 13, near the borough dump. Some of the labor is being supplied by the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, some by the borough and then Rohm & Haas Company has donated the services of others.

At present the men are engaged in cleaning out along the tracks of the P. R. R. and the adjacent area preparatory to planting of evergreens which will follow later.

This work will be a great step forward in making the entrances to Bristol more attractive and it is believed that property owners along the route will cooperate and clean-up their properties and thus add to the general effect.

This work is in keeping with the clean-up, paint-up and fix-up week campaign which gets underway Monday and lasts through May 15th. All departments of the borough government is joining in the campaign to give Bristol a thorough cleaning. It is planned to make this clean-up the most successful one Bristol has ever had.

RESCUE SQUAD WILL APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Annual Solicitation To Start In Bristol Monday Evening

HAS ACTIVE RECORD

On Monday, May 1, the volunteer Bucks County Rescue Squad, which has served the public for the past 18 years with ambulance service for sick or injured or drowning, will start its annual door-to-door solicitation for funds.

Proceeds from this drive will be used to maintain three ambulances, which answered 1,158 calls and traveled 10,420 miles last year, and the rescue lighting truck, which is used for fire and rescue work, as well as other equipment, which had to be replaced or increased due to the calls received from our physicians, especially oxygen equipment, which entailed a very large expenditure on 65 oxygen administration cases during 1949, which victims of heart or respiratory ailments required use of oxygen tents for weeks duration. Also, due to the overcrowding of hospitals, the sick and injured required wheel chairs and hospital beds for this treatment at home. This necessitated the Squad securing this necessary equipment, which belongs to you, the general public. The Squad is a means of transporting and operating it for you. No other community in the country today can receive this prompt, safe and efficient service 24 hours a day free of charge.

Soliciting of funds will be done by members in uniform accompanied by an ambulance, Monday through Thursday, between the hours of 7 and 9 in the evening, weather permitting, until solicitation has been completed.

SEEK FIRE HYDRANTS, FEASTERVILLE AREA

Insurance Underwriters To Request Water Co. To Make A Survey

FIREMEN'S MEETING

FEASTERVILLE, Apr. 29—At a session called by Feasterville Fire Co. on Thursday evening, initial steps were taken in an attempt to have fire hydrants installed where water mains are already in place at the lower end of Feasterville.

At present, it is stated, there is but one hydrant here, at the Bustleton pike.

The meeting was also attended by representatives of Lower Southampton township supervisors; Business Men's Association of Feasterville, and Improvement Association of Feasterville.

Chief Russell Wentzel, of the Middle Department Association, Fire Underwriters, Philadelphia, spoke.

The hope of the firemen is to secure better fire protection through more hydrants, also to have mains extended further into Feasterville.

The Springfield Water Co. of Bryn Mawr supplies the water. Listed now as "unprotected," the hope is to secure a "C" classification as far as fire insurance is concerned, and to thus get lower fire insurance rates.

The representative of the underwriters promised to request a survey on the part of the water company.

EMPHASIS IS PLACED ON BUCKS COUNTY'S BEAUTY, RESOURCES AND TREASURE AS THE CLUB WOMEN HOLD THEIR SPRING SESSIONS

Yardley Civic Club Hostess to Bucks County Federation at Woodside — 223 Junior and Senior Members Hear "The Yardley Story;" Are Told of "The Heacock Roses;" and View Bucks County Scenes Shown by Dr. Charles H. Boehm.

(By Staff Reporter)
WOODSIDE, Apr. 29 — Emphasis was given to Bucks County's beauty, her wealth in industry and agriculture, her treasure in art, hobbies and collections, as well as her historic background, on the occasion of the spring meeting of Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs, here, yesterday. Through the medium of the ear and eye 223 of the senior and junior club women of the county had their knowledge of the county of the founder enriched.

At the two meetings, afternoon and evening, held in Makefield community house, here, with Yardley Civic Club as hostess, two short addresses and an illustrated lecture presented much of which Bucks Countyans can well be proud. "The Yardley Story" by Mrs. Robert C. Belleville, 3d, of Yardley, and "The Heacock Roses," by Mrs. Durrell L. Noyes, were included during the initial program starting at four o'clock; while the greater portion of the evening session was turned over to Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of Bucks Co. Schools, who showed numerous slides from the Bucks County schools film library.

Dr. Boehm's presentation of slides in natural color, showed a vivid cross section of the county — historically, industrially, and from the point of view of beauty. Residents of numerous communities in the county recognized views from their areas, or points outstanding from a historic angle. The films, to mention a few, were of: Black marble at Flint Hill; the palisades, streams, waterfalls of Bucks; High Rock, 400 feet above the Delaware River road in upper Bucks County; Stover Park; industrial plants at Bristol, Cornwells Heights, New Hope and other points; dairy farms, also truck farms of huge acreage; hatcheries; orchards and countless other flowers grown under glass and in the open; wild flowers of the county; covered and modern bridges; Langhorne Speedway (U. S. fastest circular dirt track); churches and meeting houses; Penna. Dutch barns; court house paintings and various records kept there; Bucks County schools' collection of paintings valued at over $35,000; historic points such as Pennsbury and Washington Crossing Park; ancient homes with collectors' items in clocks, china, etc.

LITTLE SHRIMP INCIDENT

As international incidents go, the Mexican seizure of five shrimping trawlers from Texas is trivial. No shots seem to have been fired. If the trawlers were inside Mexican territorial waters, as Mexico claims, they were breaking Mexican law in shrimping without paying a Mexican tax.

One Congressman has called the incident "piracy on the high seas," which is what it was if it took place outside the three-mile limit. Another has urged that this country "take a strong hand" and stop showing patience. Some Congressmen, at least, are becoming tired of incidents in which American lives and property are violated at will by other nations.

Involved in the issue is a disagreement as to what constitutes territorial waters. Russia claims jurisdiction in a 12-mile limit in the Baltic. Mexico claims the right to tax all foreign shrimpers inside a nine mile limit.

The real point at issue seems to be whether Mexico is convinced American shrimpers violated her territorial waters, or whether the boys below the Rio Grande think this would be a good time to join the fun, what with Russia shooting down American planes, etc. It is possible that Mexico thinks the United States will take no steps to protect its nationals, come what may.

If that is the explanation of the incident, it would seem that this country's prestige and worldwide influence have deteriorated sadly.

NEW LOOK IN SPIES

The Mata Harris and the cloak and dagger boys still have their place in the field of espionage but they are not the ones upon whom governments now rely. The really useful agents are the men and women who work in the open, know pertinent information when they see it, and are tireless in gathering it.

Touching these new methods of learning all about a potential enemy, U. S. News and World Report reveals that Russia now has legally in this country some 600 persons who may be regarded as espionage agents. Some are connected with the Soviet Embassy and the United Nations. The rest are representatives of Tass, the official Russian news-gathering organization, or of the Amtorg Trading Agency.

All are free to come and go as they please; to attend official functions in Washington, including press conferences; to buy maps and aerial photographs covering almost all parts of the United States; and, of course, to collect the great amount of data contained in government and corporation reports. It is only in the matter of discovering highly secret details about weapons, fortifications, and strategy that they are in the least bit handicapped and must resort to the traditional gumshoe work.

The liberty we accord these Russians shows better than anything else the disregard of the red menace that still permeates Washington.
